Abstract: In recent years, English is more and more popular in the world. It attracts people due to the interestingness in its tune and structure. However, beside the tune and the structure, this language is learned and studied by a higher number of people with every passing day because of its two importances in this modern world: a mean to communicate and to create a greater opportunity for a job.

Key words: diplomacy, tourism, professional, communication, international, foreign language, collaborations, scientific, proficient.

Introduction. It is spoken by more than 340 million people as a first language in United Kingdom and the United States. English is widely used as an international language throughout the world. It is one of the official languages, even in most of the countries of the third world. It is also used for international communication. It is the language of science, aviation, computers, diplomacy and tourism. Last but not least, it is the language of international communication, the media and the internet. Whether it is for professional or personal reasons, understanding the importance of English will help you reach your goals.

It is the language of science, aviation, computers, diplomacy and tourism. Last but not least, it is the language of international communication, the media and the internet. Whether it is for professional or personal reasons, understanding the importance of English will help you reach your goals. Learning languages and engaging with other cultures helps the world become a more accepting and open-minded place. This is particularly important for young people who may actually find that their 'tribe' can be found among young people from a distant new corner of the world.

Thousands of students travel to study it, businessmen wish they were more fluent in it and all around the world, having a strong grasp of the English language is a revered skill for non-native speakers. It might not be the most commonly spoken native language in the world, but English's reputation as the global language of business, information and entertainment is the reason that the language is learned and spoken by more people than any other. It's easy to grasp and opens doors in nearly every aspect of life. Why learn English now?

Significant advancements in technology and travel have worked together to break down the figurative walls that have stopped us from being one unified global society. Currently, English is the primary language of not only countries actively touched by British imperialism, but also many business and cultural spheres dominated by those countries. It is the language of Hollywood and the language of international banking and business. As such, it is a useful and even necessary language to know. English is the international common tongue.

There are several factors that make the English language essential to communication in our current time. First of all, it is the most common foreign language. This means that two people who come from different countries (for example, a Mexican and a Swede) usually use English as a common language to communicate. That's why everyone needs to learn the language in order to get in touch on an international level. Speaking it will help you communicate with people from countries all over the world, not just English-speaking ones. Language is our primary source of communication. It's the method through which we share our ideas and thoughts with others. Not only English speaking countries use English as a communication tool. There are thousands of languages in this world. But why learn English? Currently, English is the primary language of not only countries actively touched by British imperialism, but also many business and cultural spheres dominated by those countries. It is the language of Hollywood and the language of international banking and business. As such, it is a useful and even necessary language to know.

Education. English is also essential to the field of education. In many countries, children are taught and encouraged to learn English as a second language. Even in countries where it is not an official language, such as the Netherlands or Sweden, we will find many syllabi in science and engineering are written in English. Because it is the dominant language in the sciences, most of the research and studies you find in any given scientific field will be written in it as well. At the university level, students in many countries study almost all their subjects in English in order to make the material more accessible to international students.

The Internet and Press. On the Internet, the majority of websites are written and created in English. Even sites in other languages often give you the option to translate the site. It's the primary language of the press: more newspapers and books are written in English than in any other language, and no matter where in the world you are, you will find some of these books and newspapers available. In fact, because it is so dominant in international communication, you will find more information regarding nearly every subject if you can speak this language.

First and foremost, the ability to speak English opens up a vast array of opportunities for individuals.
