Annotation: The designation of the Republic of Uzbekistan as a social state in the new constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan through clarifying statements are given in the article.

Key words and phrases: constitution, social state, human, society, government, human rights, inclusive education.

The Constitution is the main body of the state and regulates the relationship between the human, society and the state. Any legal document (Decree, Resolution, Order and oth.) is based on the Constitution.

What were the needs to change the constitution?

New dangers and threats are emerging

Conflicting processes, economic contradictions

100 million people in the world

Global problems such as food shortages, energy resource shortages, and pandemics are also seriously affecting the population of developed countries, and all of this will not fail to affect us. We are also worried about the situation in other regions, where almost 50 years of unrest continues.

The basic principle of formation of constitutional norms

The constitution aims to change the principle of "government-society-human" that was used before to "human-society-government", that is, to put the interests of people above all else.

UZBEKISTAN IS DESIGNATED AS A SOCIAL STATE:

- Everyone has the right to housing in Uzbekistan: Owning a home for every citizen, especially young families, increases a person's social stability and life satisfaction;
- No one can be deprived of housing: It is guaranteed that the owner who has been deprived of his home will be compensated for the value of the home and the damages he has suffered;
- Guaranteed free medical services are used: Norms related to public health protection are increased 4 times. It plays an important role in eliminating the threat of maternal and child mortality and infectious diseases;
- Provisions for state support for persons with disabilities have been further improved;
- Articles on the field of education have been introduced: Norms related to education and science are increasing by almost 2 times;
- Education in universities is strictly determined by the state grant: The number of scholarships has doubled to 40,000. Of this, for the master's degree - it has increased 5 times;
- Free basic vocational training: Free basic vocational training of citizens is being established;
- Inclusive education will be included in the Constitution: All conditions are being created for our children with disabilities to receive the same education as their peers.
- Everyone receives unemployment benefits: Everyone who has no means of subsistence due to their unemployment conditions has the right to be provided by the government;
- Child labor is prohibited: Any form of child labor that endangers the child's health, safety, physical and mental development, and hinders his education is banned in Uzbekistan.
- It is determined that pensions cannot be small: Determining that the amount of pension, benefit and other social assistance cannot be less than the minimum consumption expenses.
- Taken care of compatriots abroad: The state cares about the preservation and development of relations with compatriots living abroad.

Our main encyclopedia has a special section for family, children and young people as well:

- Youth rights are guaranteed in the Constitution: Creation of conditions for education, social and medical protection, housing and employment of young people is included as a constitutional obligation of the state.
- It was determined that parents should not only feed and educate their children until they reach adulthood, but also take care of their education, healthy, complete and all-round development.

In conclusion it is important to emphasize that the new constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan, which includes social provision and regulates humans and government`s interrelations, is a guarantee for the improvement of people`s lives and country`s prosperity.
