INTRODUCTION

There are many foreign languages studied in the world, but the most popular one is English. We know that teaching and learning English is becoming popular in many countries at the same time, it is becoming popular in our country. Since the demand for language learning is very high now, and it is necessary for teacher to have a lot of experience in teaching. And in this regard, many modern directions and methods are being developed. Through the introduction, you will learn the reason for learning foreign languages, you can get a lot of ideas about why it should be studied and its benefits. This topic is very public and you can find it in many places and in addition to this, I would like to express my thoughts.

METHODS

Aims of teaching a foreign language: There are three aims which should be achieved in FL teaching: practical, educational, cultural.

- The practical aim: the acquisition of a FL as a means of communication.

- The educational aim: through FL study we can develop the pupil's intellect. Teaching a FL helps the teacher to develop the pupils' voluntary and involuntary memory, his imaginative abilities and will power.

- Cultural aims: learning a FL makes the pupil acquainted with the life, customs and traditions of the people whose language he studies through visual material and reading material; with the countries where the target language is spoken.

By creating a lesson plan through these aims, it is a sequence of plans that are you can give the child understandable and necessary knowledge based on the plan. And this is a useful and popularized direction for teachers in our country.

RESULT

In Practical aims cover habits and skills which pupils acquire in using a foreign language. While learning English language as foreign language pupils habits and skills can be shown in the process of speaking. A habit is an automatic response to specific situations, acquired normally as a result of repetition and learning. A skill is a combination of useful habits serving a definite purpose and requiring application of certain knowledge. By repeating the knowledge taught to the child through Practical Aims or the directions he should apply, he will increase his knowledge and help him remember this information.

Through educational Aims, we can teach the child by using different methods during education, for example, belonging to learn FL easily and understandable. In Educational Aims, there will be such directions for the child and the pupil can easily understand not only foreign language, but also other subjects because you do research for the pupil in this direction and you approach from a scientific point of view, the pupil will also learn interesting lesson, they will remember the words easily, and at the same time, pupil`s interest in science will increase, maybe he can achieve high goals through this knowledge.

In cultural aims, the child acquires knowledge about the culture and, at the same time, humanity of the language being organized, and the history and present of the way of life of the people of that country. The teacher should attach great importance to this because through giving information about culture other countries, it is necessary to win the love of the learner, that is, his respect for the language should not be lost.

CONCLUSION

It is a method of teaching that is arranged so that thoughts do not get scattered or lost while teaching the child with a plan for 3 purposes; there are practical, educational, cultural aims through the topic. Because in this regard, if the student is taught in this sequence, the learner will learn and practice at the same time it helps to increasing knowledge, and most importantly, he will learn about the history and culture of the language which the pupil want to speak or get good knowledge at the same time. And it is required of you that during the course of teaching your subject, you will definitely need to make a plan with the help of these aims and conduct research on all questions that student may be interested to tasks.
